Experience

Carol has more than 25 years of experience practicing insurance law, and she has litigated and tried cases in the state and federal courts throughout Florida. Today, she focuses her practice on representing insurance carriers in first and third-party insurance bad faith claims, extra-contractual claims, and other insurance coverage matters. She also offers assistance and advice to her clients concerning pre-suit matters, including multi-claimant exposures, conditional settlement demands, civil remedy notice responses, and coverage opinions.

Carol graduated from Stetson University in 1986 with degrees in finance and economics, and she earned her Juris Doctor degree from Stetson University College of Law in 1989. While attending law school, Carol was a member of Stetson's trial and appellate advocacy teams, placing first place in competitions at the state, regional, and national levels.

Carol's advocacy skills and her knowledge of the intricacies of Florida's insurance laws make her a valuable member of the Taylor Day team.
