Experience

Emily was born in Lexington, Kentucky where she earned her bachelor's degree in Communications from the University of Kentucky. She then moved to Jacksonville, Florida, where she attended law school at Florida Coastal School of Law. While attending law school, Emily was the President of the Animal Law Society.

Emily began her practice as an Assistant State Attorney for the Fourth Judicial Circuit. She then transitioned into dependency law where she was a Senior Attorney for The Department of Children and Family Services. Subsequent to working for the State, Emily gained experience in civil litigation working in insurance defense in Daytona Beach, Florida.

After the birth of her two sons, Emily paused her law practice to focus on her children. Having relocated to St. Augustine, she now joins the Taylor, Day, Grimm & Boyd team, focusing her practice on Personal Injury Protection Defense and Insurance Coverage.

When she is not at work, Emily enjoys spending time at the beach with her two boys and her husband.
