Experience

Jeffrey was born in Rochester, New York. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Rochester in 1989, and his Juris Doctor from Cardozo School of Law, Yeshiva University in 1993. Jeffrey practiced in New York for seven years. During that time, he worked as an assistant public defender, acquiring and developing skills examining witnesses, investigating facts and conducting trials of criminal cases to both bench and jury.

Jeffrey moved to Florida in 2001 and practiced property and casualty insurance coverage, insurance defense and product liability defense. He currently defends both first and third-party insurance claims.

Jeffrey has also handled a number of wrongful death claims on behalf of the deceased's families, has probated a number of estates, and has assisted several clients through their divorce proceedings. He is admitted to practice before all Florida state courts.
