Experience

Kyrie Holman is originally from North Florida. She attended the University of Florida as a Presidential Scholar and graduated cum laude with a degree in Political Science. Kyrie then earned her Juris Doctor from The Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law in Washington, D.C., where she received a Dean's Merit Scholarship. At Catholic, Kyrie completed a certificate program in Compliance, Investigations, and Corporate Responsibility.

Before joining Taylor, Day, Grimm & Boyd, Kyrie was an associate at a large insurance defense firm in Florida where she handled bodily injury and general liability claims. Kyrie's experience also includes working at the Columbus Community Legal Services as a Student-Attorney where she represented clients in family law and immigration matters before the D.C. Superior Court. While in law school, Kyrie completed a year-long fellowship with AARP handling veteran appeals against the Social Security Administration and Department of Veterans Affairs. Kyrie also served as an Associate Editor for Catholic University Journal of Law and Technology.

Outside the office, Kyrie enjoys reading, playing tennis, watching college football, and spending time with her friends and family.
