Experience

After working for more than 20 years as a paralegal, Marsa knew that a career in law was her true passion. After a bit of persistent encouragement from the attorneys she worked with, she decided to go to law school to obtain her Juris Doctorate. Taylor Day was quick to recognize her talents, as well, and upon graduating from the University of Florida's College of Law in 1995, she's been a valued member at our firm ever since.

Her time spent as a paralegal created a love for writing and research, two skills that prove to be very useful as an attorney. Marsa's thoroughness is only exceeded by her ability to foresee potential problems. Her clients benefit from her foresight and attention to detail.
